

What a bright idea!

TRY THIS WITH YOUR CHILD:

Strong, Stronger, Strongest

Choose a headline with a “strong” verb or adjective. Rewrite the headline with a verb or adjective that is less strong. Then write it again with a verb or adjective that is stronger.

Standards Link: Grammar: Students use and understand adjectives in speaking and writing.

There's a world of fun & learning in the newspaper every day! Visit our Bright Ideas Lesson Library for hundreds of math, science, social science and language arts activities using the newspaper.
